

Call for Submissions

The Global Poetry Consortium is hosting a Global Poetry Festival the week of April 20th in New York City at the Birch Wathen Lenox School. The festival will feature multi-modal art installations, poetry readings, virtual connections and live performances. The festival's goal is to present interdisciplinary art with a literary bent. Please submit project proposals to ryan.clinesmith@bwl.org by March 1st.
